

Mental Commitments -Wisconsin Statutes Chapter 51

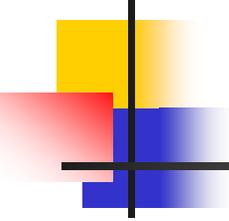

the Kenosha County Corporation Counsel' Office

Types of Cases

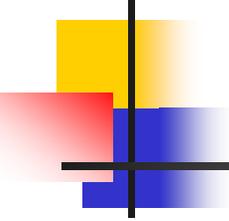

- A “Chapter 51” proceeding refers to Chapter 51 of the Wisconsin Statutes, State Alcohol, Drug Abuse, Developmental Disabilities and Mental Health Act.
- The legislature enacted this law to assure the provision of a full range of treatment and rehabilitation services in the state for all mental disorders and developmental disabilities and for mental illness, alcoholism and drug abuse. § 51.001, Wis. Stats.

Summary of the Law

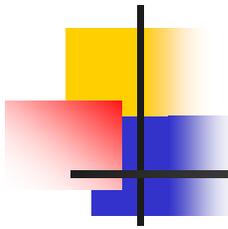

- A person is considered a subject for a Chapter 51 if the person is:
 1. Mentally ill, drug dependent or developmentally disabled, and
 2. A substantial probability of physical harm to him/herself or others is evident by recent acts or omissions, attempts or threats, and
 3. The individual is a proper subject for treatment

§§ 51.15 and 51.20, Wis. Stats.

Summary of the Law on Confidentiality - HIPPA

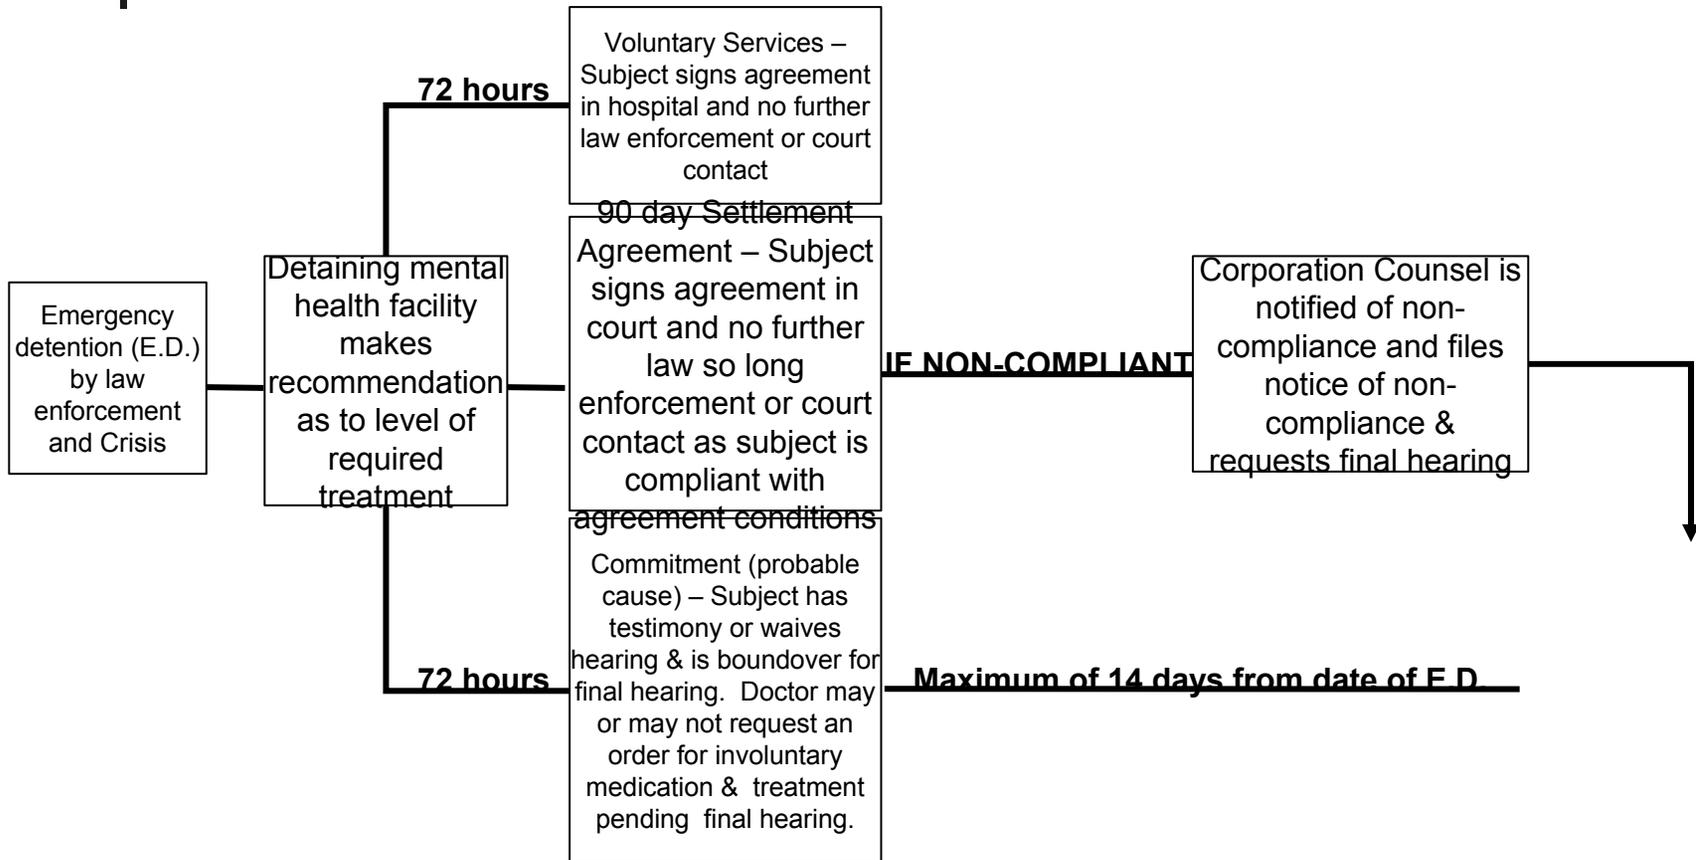

Chapter 51 of the Wisconsin Statutes restricts availability of protected health information. This information can only be released to parties producing proper authorization and authority. In all other cases a court order is required to access this information.

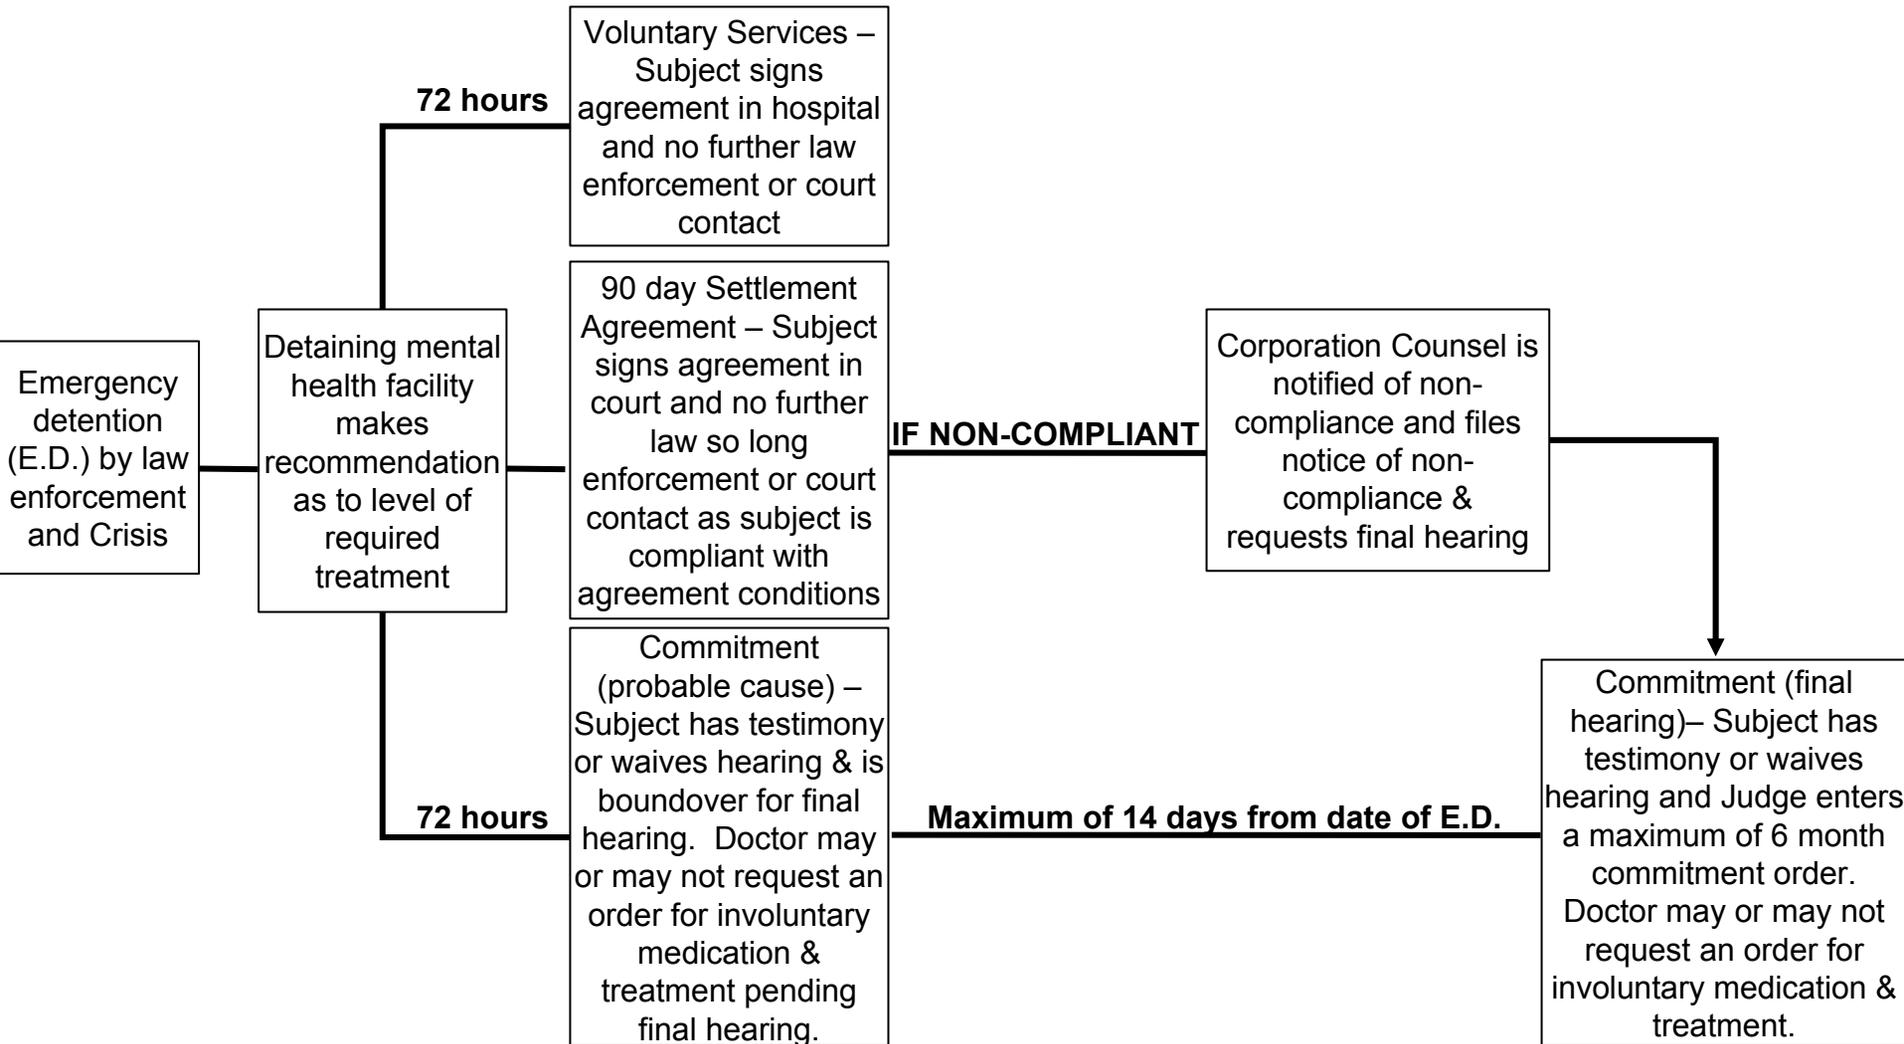

Summary of Procedure – What to Expect

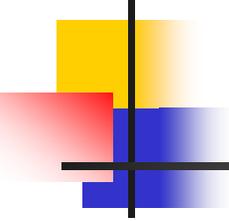

- In most situations, law enforcement is alerted to the potential “chapter” subject by an emergency phone call to authorities. Law enforcement is dispatched to the scene and assess the situation. If the law enforcement officer believes that the person may be a potential “chapter” subject, the officer calls Crisis for aid in determining the need for a “chapter,” the availability of services and placement, and the funding for a placement.

Summary of Procedure – What to Expect

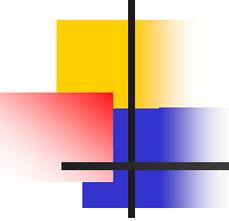

Chapter 51 – Court proceedings

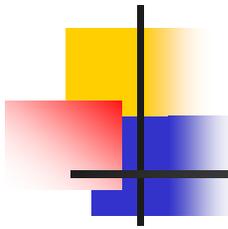

Summary of Procedure – Emergencies

- Commonly, a Chapter 51 proceeding also known as a “Chapter” refers to an emergency detention initiated by law enforcement pursuant to § 51.15, Wis. Stats.

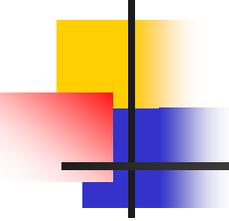

Summary of Procedure – Emergencies

- If the law enforcement officer believes that the person fits the criteria for a “chapter” and is dangerous or resistive enough to not be a proper candidate for voluntary services in the community, the law enforcement officer initiates an Emergency Detention pursuant to a Chapter 51. §51.15, Wis. Stats.

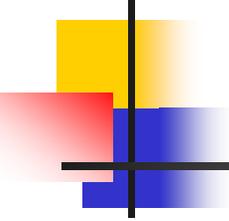

Summary of Procedure – Emergencies

- The law enforcement officer on scene transports the subject to a local hospital for medical clearance.
- All emergency detention facilities require that the law enforcement officer take the subject to a hospital for medical clearance prior to admission into the mental health facility.

Summary of Procedure – Emergencies

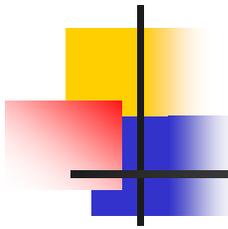

- Once the subject is medically cleared at the medical facility, law enforcement transports the subject to the approved mental health facility for admission and treatment.

Summary of Procedure – Emergencies

- At the facility, a licensed psychiatrist meets with the subject within 24 to 48 hours of admission to the facility to determine if the individual continues to meet the criteria for a Chapter 51 commitment and to make recommendations as to whether or not the subject is in need of voluntary services, a short term agreement for stabilization and treatment, or a longer period of more intensive supervision and treatment.

Summary of Procedure – Emergencies

- Kenosha County Corporation Counsel receives the reports of Emergency Detention from the law enforcement agency and the recommendations of the psychiatrist at the mental health detention facility. If the psychiatrist believes that services and court intervention is necessary, Corporation Counsel files all required paperwork, notifies all necessary parties, and represents the County's interests in the Court proceeding.

Summary of Procedure –

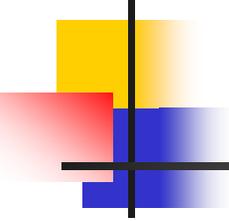

Emergencies – Probable Cause Hearing

- The first hearing after an emergency detention is called a “probable cause” hearing. It MUST be held within 72 hours of the emergency detention, not including Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays. §51.20(7)(a), Wis. Stats. At this hearing, the Court must decide if there is probable cause to believe that a person has a mental illness, is dangerous to him/herself or others, and is treatable.

Summary of Procedure –

Emergencies - Probable Cause Hearing

- A subject can agree that the court can make these findings and waive the hearing. The subject also has a right to contest the matter and require testimony from all relevant witnesses as to the three criteria for a Chapter 51 commitment.

Summary of Procedure –

Emergencies – Probable Cause Hearing

- If the doctor recommends and the subject agrees to a short-term agreement, the subject has no further court hearings unless the subject is non-compliant with the terms of the agreement entered into at the probable cause hearing. If the subject is non-compliant with the agreement, the case can be brought back to Court and would proceed in the same manner as if probable cause was found but a settlement agreement was not entered §51.20(8), Wis. Stats. (see also following pages)

Summary of Procedure –

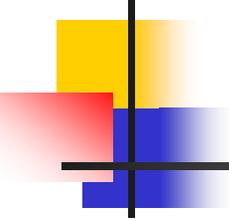

Emergencies – Probable Cause Hearing

- If a longer term of services and supervision is recommended by the doctor, if probable cause is found at the hearing, the subject is returned to the hospital and returns to Court for a final hearing, which must be scheduled within 14 days of the date of emergency detention in the psychiatric facility. §51.20(7)(c), Wis. Stats.

Summary of Procedure –

Emergencies – Final Hearing

- Between the date of probable cause hearing and final hearing, Corporation Counsel ensures that two licensed psychiatrists or a licensed psychiatrist and psychologist are appointed to conduct an examination of the subject and complete a report which includes the standards required for a Chapter 51 commitment (same as listed under probable cause hearing) and recommendations as to medication and treatment of the subject.

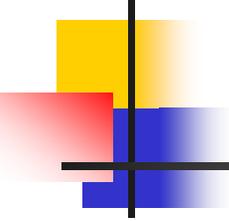

Summary of Procedure – Emergencies – Final Hearing

- At this hearing, the Court must decide if subject continues to meet the criteria necessary for a Chapter 51 commitment: that the subject has a mental illness, is dangerous to him/herself or others, and is treatable. The Court makes these findings based on the reports and/or testimony of the psychiatrists and/or psychologists and any relevant testimony from witnesses.

Summary of Procedure –

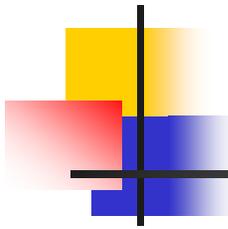

Emergencies – Final Hearing

- A subject can agree that the court can make these findings and waive the hearing. The subject also has a right to contest the matter and require testimony from the doctors and all other relevant witnesses as to the three criteria for a Chapter 51 commitment.

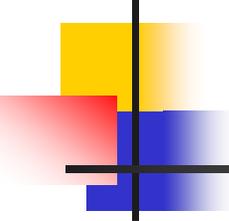

Summary of Procedure – Emergencies – Final Hearing

- If the Court concludes that the standard for the criteria has been met, the Court enters an order that the subject is under a commitment to get services as are necessary through any and all service providers. An initial commitment period cannot exceed 6 months, however can be extended after the initial period at the recommendation of the doctor.

Order for Involuntary Medication and Services

- At any point during the proceedings, a doctor can request an order for involuntary medication and treatment for the subject. The doctor must have or attempt to have a conversation with the subject and try to explain the advantages and disadvantages of accepting medication and treatment. The doctor then makes the determination if an individual is competent or if the subject is substantially incapable of applying an understanding of the advantages, disadvantages and alternatives to his or her chronic mental illness in order to make an informed choice as to whether to accept or refuse psychotropic medications.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU SUSPECT A MAJOR MENTAL ILLNESS

- Mental illness is often misunderstood and the individuals themselves may not understand their illness.
- Anyone can be affected by mental illness.
- Mental illness comes in a variety of forms and in varying degrees of severity.
- Mental illness causes behaviors, or symptoms, which may interfere with family and social relationships. The symptoms cause a decreased ability to relate to others, work effectively and complete school tasks.
- An individual with mental illness will have more success on a daily basis when medical personnel, community agencies, schools and families work together.

PROFESSIONAL HELP AND TREATMENT

- Persons with major mental illness can often lead fulfilling and productive lives with proper professional treatment.
- First Step: Family Doctor/Pediatrician – to identify a medical condition and refer.
- Second Step: Psychiatrist – to evaluate symptoms, diagnose mental illness or other disorder and prescribe medication.
- Third Step: Clinical Psychologists or State Certified Therapists – to provide supportive medical services which include psychotherapy and education.

- The participation of caring and supportive family members is an important component of the recovery process.
- Medications do not cure mental illness, but they can lessen the symptoms and provide stabilization.
- Medication duration depends on the disorder. Some people may need medication for a single episode. For some disorders, such as schizophrenia or bipolar illness, medication may have to be taken indefinitely.

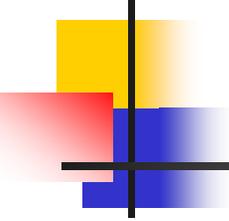

Contacts, Links & Resources –

- Medications for mental illness do not produce the same effect in everyone. Some people may respond better to one medication than another. Therefore, the path to recovery may be a gradual process.
- Children taking medication require active monitoring by all caretakers (parents, teachers, others who have charge of the child).
- Psychotherapy is helpful in providing support, education, and guidance to the patient and their family. It also helps people cope with the psychological issues associated with mental illness.

HOW SCHOOLS CAN HELP

- School services are comprised of an interdisciplinary group of professionals including school nurses, social workers, psychologists, and counselors assigned to serve students. Options can be explored to assist the student during school in collaboration with the student's family, physician, community agency professionals, and other treatment providers.
- School nurses provide students and staff with health maintenance and preventive consultation which include: identification, assessment, and community referral of health problems, specialized emergency health care procedures and health education resources.
- School social workers help identify and work to resolve social and emotional difficulties that may interfere with a child's adjustment and achievement in school.

- School psychologists assess strengths, weaknesses, and other adaptive functioning skills of students. The assessment and case management for students suspected of having a disability and reassessment of students in special education are the primary role of school psychologists. They serve as case managers on Individual Education Program (IEP) Teams.
- School counselors work with students individually, in small groups, or in the classroom to plan, monitor, and manage their educational, personal, and career development and provide crisis counseling as needed.
- Federal and State laws ensure students with special health care needs are not discriminated against because of their disabilities.
